

Racial Justice Task Force Leadership

Co-Chairs

Cir L'Bert Jr. is an Akron based writer, creator, and public speaker working toward Black liberation, justice, reparations, and equity. He serves as Board Member and Racial Justice Task Force Co-chair of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Akron, and as a commissioner on the UUA Commission on Institutional Change. He is also active in the Akron arts community as house manager of The Nightlight Cinema, Chair of Programming at Radio Free Akron, and co-host of On the Tropes, a podcast at TvTropes.org.

Deb Lemire has served several organizations locally and nationally, that focused on women's rights as well as body autonomy. Deb is a local theatre artist and believes the arts remind us of our humanity. A strong believer in building community, she brings her talents and passion as an event organizer and advocate to an issue most crucial to our survival, racial justice. www.queenbeeproductions.com
