

August 6, 2017
“The In Between God”
Rev. Tim Temerson

In many religions, God is understood as being an old man with a long beard who is above, beyond, and separate from humankind. As Rev. Tim concludes a sermon series about God, we will explore a very different understanding that sees the divine as the connections human beings have with each other and the natural world.

August 13, 2017
Remembering the Great Agnostic
Rev. Tim Temerson

While Unitarian Universalism welcomes and embraces very diverse beliefs, it’s fair to say that what might be called “Agnostic Humanism” is the most commonly held belief system among Unitarian Universalists. Today we will explore some key ideas of Humanism as we remember the life and legacy of “The Great Agnostic,” Robert Green Ingersoll.

August 20, 2017
Resist, Rejoice, Empower:
Insights from General Assembly 2017

Join us as we reflect on this year’s historic General Assembly, and explore how we can further the work in our congregation.

August 27, 2017
“The Wisdom in Our Differences”
Rev. Tim Temerson and Rabbi Joshua Brown

Unitarian Universalism affirms the truth and wisdom that exists in our differences, including the wisdom of different religious traditions. Today we will learn about some of those differences by exploring the Jewish tradition with Rabbi Joshua Brown from Temple Israel. Today’s service completes a pulpit exchange between Rabbi Brown and Rev. Tim, who will preach at Temple Israel in early August.